

Dear Stampers,

Our shape challenges have brought out so many wonderful creations—as well as input from new sources—we’re continuing to include them in upcoming issues. Here’s the latest!

The Shirt-Shape Challenge

Everyone’s invited to participate. Just dress up a shirt shape shown here or find your own shirt stamp, die cut or template. Feel free to put a shirt on a body or within a scene. You could place a group of shirts on a clothesline or pack them in a suitcase, ready to travel to parts unknown. Of course, actual stamped shirts are welcome, too.

The only request is to include at least one stamped image on your shirt (or shirts).

A selection of Shirt-Shape artwork will be featured in the Spring 2018 issue.

Send artwork by mail to:

RSM, PO Box 610, Corvallis, OR 97339 or
216 SW Madison Ave., Ste. 17, Corvallis,
OR 97333

Send artwork jpegs to: images@rsmadness.com

Postmark due date: September 10, 2017

We’re looking forward to seeing how you respond to this “textile” challenge.

Note: Feel free to adjust the size of the shapes shown here. The shirt at top is a stamp from Judikins, reduced 80%. The center shape was found on the Internet. The bottom shape is an Impression Obsession die cut available through The Frantic Stamper. See page 80 of this issue for submission details or visit rsmadness.com/submissions.html.
